

GRADUATE STUDIES IN PHYSICS

The department offers a PhD in physics with a focus in atomic, molecular, & optical physics; condensed, soft, & biological matter physics; cosmology; high energy (particle) physics or physics education research.

Fellowships, teaching, and research assistantships are available.

APPLICATION MATERIALS

phys.ksu.edu/graduate/prospective/

graduate@phys.ksu.edu

785-532-1612

Applications due January 8

Facebook.com/ksuphys/

twitter.com/@KSUPhysics

