

R&D – BARRIER TECHNICIAN

Headlines:

In the role of R&D Barrier technician, working in Alcalá de Henares (Madrid) and with an international scope, you will provide expertise in barrier packaging material growing our Group's knowledge and competence for new packaging solutions development.

This position reports to the R&D Chief, and works closely with all teams across the organization, including Marketing, Sustainability, Product Development and suppliers.

Responsibilities:

- Provide solid expertise in innovation and product development projects for barrier multilayer sheets for different markets, categories and regions.
- Be the point of reference at the Group for polymer material expertise
- Consolidate and increase our Open Innovation center expertise to provide a more comprehensive service to our customers.
- Increase the Innotech capability for barrier structure trials, including extrusion and thermoforming.
- Keeping up-to-date with technological and materials innovations

Experience and Education:

- Polymer science degree or specialization in this field
- 3+ years of related experience as technician
- Wide knowledge of materials related to barrier packaging.
- Preferably with experience in plastic multilayer converting industry (coinjection, coextrusion...)

Other:

- Travel availability
- High level of Spanish and English (professional level). French preferable.